COMPLAINT

1. This is an action brought by the Plaintiff, Daniel Fore, Sr., for actual and statutory damages, punitive damages, attorney’s fees, and costs for Defendants’ violations of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1681 et seq, (hereinafter “FCRA”).

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2. This Court has Jurisdiction under 15 U.S.C. §1681p and 28 U.S.C. §1331 and §1332.
3. Venue is proper in the Florence Division because the Plaintiff resides in Marion, SC and the Defendant transacted business in this division.

PARTIES

4. The Plaintiff, Daniel Fore, Sr., is a resident and citizen of Marion, South Carolina, and is over the age of twenty-one (21) years.
5. Defendant First National Collection Bureau, Inc. (“First National”) is a Nevada Corporation that may be served with process by way of its registered agent, LexisNexis Document Solutions, 1703 Laurel St., Columbia, SC 29201. Defendant First National was in all respects and at all times relevant herein doing business in the state of South Carolina.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

6. Plaintiff has been attempting to get inaccurate information removed from his credit report for almost two years. In July, 2013, Plaintiff received a copy of his Trans Union credit report. Defendant reported an inaccurate, negative account to Plaintiff's Trans Union credit report. Specifically, Defendant reported that Plaintiff had an unpaid Direct TV account which had been placed for collection with Defendant.
7. Plaintiff was not, and has not ever been, in arrears with Direct TV.
8. On or about July 16, 2013, Plaintiff received a copy of his Equifax credit report. Defendant reported an inaccurate, negative account to Plaintiff's Experian credit report. Specifically, Defendant reported that Plaintiff had an unpaid Direct TV account which had been placed for collection with Defendant.
9. On or about August 1, 2013, Plaintiff received a copy of his Equifax credit report. Defendant reported an inaccurate, negative account to Plaintiff's Equifax credit report. Specifically, Defendant reported that Plaintiff had an unpaid Direct TV account which had been placed for collection with Defendant.
10. On or about August 2, 2013, Plaintiff sent a dispute letter to Trans Union. In his letter, Plaintiff stated that the First National account reporting to his Trans Union credit report was not his account, but that it had belonged to a previous roommate. Further, Plaintiff stated that his roommate's account had been paid in full. Upon information and belief, Trans Union forwarded Plaintiff's dispute to Defendant.

11. On or about August 2, 2013, Plaintiff sent a dispute letter to Experian by way of the dispute form provided by Experian. In his dispute, Plaintiff stated that the First National account reporting to his Experian credit report was not his account. Upon information and belief, Experian forwarded Plaintiff's dispute to Defendant.
12. On or about August 15, 2013, Plaintiff received a second Trans Union report which contained the results of Defendant's alleged investigation into his dispute. Defendant continued to report the collection account to Plaintiff's Trans Union credit report. Defendant verified the account as accurate to Trans Union and the account was not changed as a result of Defendant's verification. Additionally, Defendant failed to report the account as disputed when verifying this inaccurate account to Trans Union.
13. On or about August 22, 2013, Plaintiff received a second Experian report which contained the results of Defendant's alleged investigation into his dispute. Defendant continued to report the collection account to Plaintiff's Experian credit report. Defendant verified the account as accurate to Experian and the account was not changed as a result of Defendant's verification. Additionally, Defendant failed to report the account as disputed when verifying this inaccurate account to Experian.
14. On or about May 9, 2014, Plaintiff sent a second dispute to Trans Union. In this letter, Plaintiff once again disputed the First National account being reported to his Trans Union credit report. Upon information and belief, Trans Union forwarded Plaintiff's dispute to Defendant.

15. On or about May 24, 2014, Plaintiff received the results of Defendant's second alleged investigation into his dispute. Defendant continued to report the collection account to Plaintiff's Trans Union credit report. Defendant verified the account as accurate to Trans Union and the account was not changed as a result of Defendant's verification. Additionally, Defendant failed to report the account as disputed when verifying this inaccurate account to Trans Union.
16. On or about February 9, 2015, Plaintiff sent a third dispute to Trans Union, this time by way of a "Credit Report Dispute Form". Plaintiff once more disputed the First National account being reported to his Trans Union credit report, stating that the account was not his and that he had never had Direct TV. Upon information and belief, Trans Union forwarded Plaintiff's dispute to Defendant.
17. On or about February 9, 2015, Plaintiff also sent a dispute to Equifax by way of a "Credit Report Dispute Form". Plaintiff disputed the reporting of the First National account to his Equifax credit report, stating that it was not his account and that he had never had Direct TV. Upon information and belief, Equifax forwarded Plaintiff's dispute to Defendant.
18. On or about February 23, 2015, Plaintiff received the results of Defendant's alleged investigation into his dispute regarding his Equifax credit report. Defendant continued to report the collection account to Plaintiff's Equifax credit report. Defendant verified the account as accurate to Equifax and the account was not changed as a result of Defendant's verification. Additionally, Defendant failed to report the account as disputed when verifying this inaccurate account to Equifax.

19. On or about February 25, 2015, Plaintiff received the results of Defendant's third alleged investigation into his dispute regarding his Trans Union credit report. Defendant continued to report the collection account to Plaintiff's Trans Union credit report. Defendant verified the account as accurate to Trans Union and the account was not changed as a result of Defendant's verification. Additionally, Defendant failed to report the account as disputed when verifying this inaccurate account to Trans Union.
20. Defendant continues to report the inaccurate collection account set forth herein as belonging to Plaintiff to Equifax, Experian, and Trans Union. Upon information and belief, Defendant is not performing a reasonable investigation into Plaintiff's disputes, as is required by the Fair Credit Reporting Act.
